Ice Coated Highways Make

Many States

(International News Service)
From the Rockies to the Atlantic and from the Canadian line deep into the south the nation shivered and quailed today as winter renewed its assault with snow, sleet and swiftly sliding temperatures, tying up surface and air transport, slowing rail travel, hampering communications and bringing at least eight deaths and scores of injuries.

Rain that turned to sleet and froze under renewed cold blasts brought new misery to widespread areas, with the northwest particularly hard hit.

Schools Are Closed
Throughout that section, most of the schools were closed because of cold and inability of pupils to travel. Roads were ice-sheathed with sleet and snow general over the area. St. Paul and Minneapolis were in the clutch of 17-below-zero weather, with no immediate relief in sight.

Michigan, too, lay under a blanket of ice in the wake of widespread rain and snow that grounded planes (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES
A number of persons who passed a South Mill street junk yard Monday looked and shook their heads. It was a beautiful new automobile smashed a la accordion style which attracted so much attention.

A common sight down the South Side this morning at 7:30 o'clock: Merchants cleaning ice in front of their stores.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Joseph, East Long avenue, is once more filled with the joyous singing of their canary. Some time ago the bird managed to gain its freedom. A neighbor suggested placing the cage outside. The Josephs heeded the suggestion and sure enough the attractive canary flew into the cage one day.

Motorists were halted Monday night and forced to seek quarters for the night wherever they could. Private families on East Washington street took some in, while others managed to get to tourist homes or cabins. The icy streets and roads made traveling almost impossible.

This was one of those kind of mornings where the sidewalks which had been cleaned off were the worst places to walk. A light skiff of snow was followed by sleet and rain last evening, which froze, causing perilous footing. Where the snow had lain on the walks it was not so bad.

A very unthoughtful and careless driver was seen making a left hand turn at the intersection of Washington and Mill streets last night.

The light rain which fell this morning made walking very difficult. (Continued On Page Two)

Report Al Smith May Be Delegate

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A report that former governor Alfred E. Smith may go to the Democratic national convention from his old home district, the 11th congressional, better known as the "Fulton Fish market district", stirred speculation in political circles today.

Such a decision by Smith, it was pointed out, would be a most dramatic acceptance of the challenge of Roosevelt administration spokesmen, who have publicly stated that Smith might not be permitted to go to Philadelphia in June as a delegate because of his now famous Liberty League speech.

Roosevelt administration leaders in this state fear that if Smith went to the convention as a delegate he might attempt to block the customary resolution endorsing the national administration. Failing in this, he might "take a walk" in such dramatic fashion as to injure Roosevelt's chances in the fall.

Though leader James J. Dooling has pledged Tammany's support to President Roosevelt, Smith, it was reported, is ready to denounce the administration for "treason" to the Democratic party platform of 1932, if he goes to the convention, even if he sits with the Tammany Braves.

Seen Taking Hand In Lindbergh Case Probe
TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 4.—Persistent reports that political foes of Governor Harold Hoffman would take steps to circumvent his investigation into the Lindbergh case appeared today to have been confirmed.

Assemblyman Herbert Young (R) of Essex county introduced a bill into the state legislature last night providing that the superintendent of the state police shall remain in office until his successor has been approved by the two houses of the legislature.

If this measure is passed it is freely predicted that the governor will have considerable difficulty getting a nominee for the post past the legislature when Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf's term expires next June. It has long been rumored that Hoffman planned to replace Schwarzkopf with a man of his own choosing as soon as he was free to do so. The bill will be voted upon by the assembly next week.

The young couple were married by Mayor F. H. La Guardia in his office.

Only a few dozen of Tokyo's 20,000 taxicabs were able to operate. The city's 1,200 street cars all were stalled and 1,000,000 bicyclists were forced to abandon this mode of transportation.

No casualties were reported in early advices regarding the storm.

A note was found in his Hitchcock hall dormitory room, where he lived alone, which officials said might indicate suicide.

Discovery of the body came while Massachusetts officials were attempting to solve the mysterious death of Francis Grose, 21-year-old Amherst college student, son of a prominent Great Neck, L. I. family, whose body was found yesterday on Connecticut river ice beneath a 40 foot high railroad bridge.

New York Raids May Bring Police Shake-Up

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A widespread shakeup of the New York police department appeared likely today as a result of the smashing week-end raids of special prosecutor Dewey which crushed a $12,000,000 a year vice ring and brought about the arrests of 10 alleged "big shots" of eastern white slave traffic.

Police commissioner Lewis J. Valentine is said to be determined to find out why the 41 resorts raided by Dewey's men were allowed to operate apparently unmolested for some time prior to the raids.

According to Dewey, the vice racket was operated by a "big four" syndicate. One of the accused men, Peter Baltizer, was arrested in Philadelphia and indicted by a special racket grand jury on charges involving the operation of 200 disorderly houses. Two other men, said to be members of the "big four", were arraigned before supreme court justice McCook and held in $75,000 bail each. They are Al Weiner, 25-year-old son of Louis "Cock-eye" now serving a prison term for compulsory prostitution, and Jack Ellenstein.

The other seven men taking into custody are being held in bail, ranging from $25,000 to $75,000. A majority of the 75 girls arrested are being held as material witnesses, Dewey disclosed.

WIDOW BLAMES GOVERNOR

Liggett Slaying Trial Nears End

Widow Of Slain Publisher Makes Sensational Charge On Witness Stand

IDENTIFIES KID CANN AS KILLER

(International News Service) MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 4.—Prosecution of Isadore "Kid Cann" Blumenfeld for the machine gun slaying of Walter Liggett, crusading editor and publisher, was expected to close today with testimony of final witnesses in anti-climax after the sensational cross-examination of the publisher's widow yesterday.

Again identifying Kid Cann as the slayer, Mrs. Edith Liggett placed responsibility for the murder of her husband directly at the feet of Gov. Floyd B. Olson.

Answering Defense Attorney Thomas McMeekin's question, "You associate Kid Cann with Gov. Olson?" the widow replied: "The murder of my husband would not have been committed without the permission of Gov. Olson. He either ordered it or permitted it."

At Rochester, Minn., where Gov. Olson is contesting from an operation, he declared today he had "no statement to make" concerning Mrs. Liggett's testimony.

boards, and the blame will be pinned onto America.

The committee has not yet decided upon the time limit.

Consistent with this proposal, Italy launched a vigorous campaign to steer the committee away from further sanctions, with the outspoken warning that Italy will quit the league if the oil ban is approved.

Italy Pushes Move

"This step would not be the result of any practical effect that oil sanctions might have," an Italian spokesman said, "because we not only have stocks of gasoline, but have also acquired tankers of our own for transporting oil from the United States."

"We would, rather, be forced to leave the league because of the moral effect on all Italians, who are not afraid of the oil embargo itself, but would consider it an aggravation of the league's anti-Italian activities."

This statement followed a series of articles in most Italian newspapers warning that more sanctions might cause a general European outbreak. Similar intimidation by the Italians twice before led to postponement of the oil stoppage, notably when Premier Laval of France reportedly frightened Foreign Minister Hoare of Britain into approving the ill-fated Paris peace plan.

Your Income Tax In Brief

NO. 8 HUSBAND AND WIFE MAY FILE JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a return of a closed subject to both the normal and the surtax. If a joint return is not made by an agent of the taxpayers it must be signed by both husband and wife and sworn to before a proper officer by the spouse preparing the return, or if neither or both prepare the return then by both spouses.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the joint personal exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either or divided between them in any proportion as agreed upon. In certain cases it would be to the advantage of the couple if they should file separate returns and one spouse claim the total joint personal exemption. In the following examples, which illustrate this point, the husband has a net income of $4,700, all of which represents earned net income, and the wife has a separate net income of $2,500, not earned net income.

Computations—Separate Returns.

Net income, husband ..... $4,700.00

Less personal exemption ..... 2,500.00

Balance (surtax net income) ..... 2,200.00

(No surtax applies as net income amount is less than $4,000)

Earned income credit ..... 470.00

Net income subject to normal tax ..... 1,730.00

Husband's normal tax at 4 per cent ..... 69.20

Net income, wife ..... 2,500.00

Less personal exemption ..... None

Less earned income credit ..... 250.00

Net income subject to normal tax ..... 2,250.00

Wife's normal tax at 4 per cent ..... 90.00

Total tax of husband and wife ..... 159.20

Computation—Joint Return.

Net income, husband $4,700

Net income, wife ..... 2,500

Less personal exemption ..... $7,200.00

Less personal exemption ..... 2,500.00

Balance (surtax net income) ..... 4,700.00

Earned income credit: 10 per cent of earned income of husband, $4,700 ..... $470.00

10 per cent of earned income of wife, $2,500 ..... 250.00

Net income subject to normal tax ..... 3,980.00

Normal tax, 4 per cent on $3,980 ..... 159.20

Surtax at 4 per cent on amount in excess of $4,000 but not over $6,000, 4 per cent on $700 earned income credit not allowable in computation of surtax ..... 28.00

Total tax, joint return of husband and wife ..... 187.20

It will be noted that the saving in tax resulting from the filing of separate returns amounts to $28 in the above computations.

"In filing a joint return husband and wife compute the earned income in the same manner as in filing separate returns. If taxpayer's net income is not more than $2,000 the entire net income is considered to be earned net income."

PA NEW OBSERVES

cult as it froze into a sheet of ice on the side walks. Numerous early risers were seen literally feeling their way along the walks to avoid a fall.

It may seem strange but parking space was at a premium until a late hour last night in the downtown district. Cause for this could not be found, but cars were lining both sides of most all downtown streets.

We admit a mistake in believing that anything new in the way of weather was yet to come. Today is another hummer, one of the worst ones for pedestrians as well as motorists.

Evidently the weatherman is playing no favorites. Last week, while this district was experiencing ten below zero weather, reports from Denver indicated summer temperatures prevailed at that place. This morning, press wires inform us that Denver now has ten below zero.

Action of a fire insurance company in donating $50 to the city in appreciation of the service of city firemen in the townships surrounding New Castle is a commendable gesture. New Castle firemen have responded to a large number of fire calls outside the city limits during the present winter.

With the unusual turn in the weather this morning, snow is melting rapidly and many of the streets are running large quantities of water into the storm sewers. If the thaw continues for any length of time, the creeks and rivers will rise rapidly, as the water does not soak into the frozen ground but runs off rapidly.

A local motorist told Young Pa News that the Youngstown-New Castle highway was so slippery that he counted 13 vehicles in ditches, while enroute to New Castle this morning.

Early this afternoon Young Pa News was talking to a happy-go-lucky "scissor grinder" he encountered on South Mill street. The man, Vincenzo Dell, of Mechanic street, told the writer he had been waiting for sometime for the weather to break. Since the weatherman turned generous, Mr. Dell stated he thought he would take advantage of the change. Asked about business, Dell said that "it wasn't bad."

Central firemen were kept busy this morning closing the big front doors, which kept continually blowing open, as sharp gusts of wind forced the latches on the door.

and virtually halted all highway travel. Street transport in towns was impaired and little relief was seen as a new sub-zero cold wave was predicted.

The Rocky Mountains and Great Plains regions were also hard hit. Denver, with the mercury at 10 below, lay deep in snow with the storm general as far south as New Mexico. Snow and sleet, with rapidly dropping temperatures, was reported throughout the plains region. Texas was warned of a new cold wave, mitigated by the possibility of rising temperatures tomorrow but other sections saw little hope of winter's grip relaxing.

Drops Rapidly

Kansas and western Missouri reported temperatures ranging from zero to 8 below with sub-zero temperatures expected to last for at least another day before moving slowly eastward. In Kansas City, streets were covered with snow and ice. St. Louis saw the thermometer drop 32 degrees to 4 above zero in 14 hours. Scores of minor injuries resulted from sleet-sheathed streets and colder weather was predicted tonight.

In Indiana, four deaths were attributed to icy roads. Sleet assailed most of the state and colder weather, possibly as low as 10 below zero, was indicated tonight.

Sleet and falling temperatures were general through the midwest. Schools were closed at various points in Iowa, Nebraska and Ohio because buses could not travel the slippery highways.

In the east, conditions were as bad. Pennsylvania was struggling to free itself from a sleet and snow storm that brought three deaths and dozens of injuries. A score were hurt near Sharon hill when a bus skidded on the ice and crashed. Throughout the state, motorists moved at their own peril.

New Jersey was a glitter of ice and sleet that caused at least one highway death. Rain was general over the state and predictions were for lower temperatures that boded ill for relief.

PROPRIETORS TOLD LAW MUST BE OBEYED

are, and that, the burden of protecting themselves is upon the licensees.

Mayor McGrath declared that the license gave them a legal right to sell liquor but not to violate any other law.

Tells Of Law Provisions

"If you have any other thought in your mind you should forget it. If you are found guilty of breaking any laws of the commonwealth the court can revoke the license and your place cannot be relinquished for a period of five years," he declared.

"The law declares you shall not sell to minors, insane persons, habitual drinkers or persons of intemperate habits. The law also states that persons of a minor age cannot be given drink in a licensed place. The law under which you operate puts the burden upon you, not upon the city. The only burden placed upon the city is to see that the law is carried out. You must know the law and see that the law is not violated in your place," he added.

He declared the license did not give a right to operate a bawdy or gambling house and said that health ordinances of the state and city must be obeyed. The mayor told of complaints which he had received. Some are justified, some are not he declared but added that, whenever conditions justified the police department would take cognizance and act.

Not Allow Minors To Drink

He said that proprietors of some places allowed drink to either be bought or furnished minors but that other proprietors would not do such an act and pleaded that this violation not be permitted and declared further that when persons allowed minors to buy or be provided with liquor that the business of the law abiding proprietors was injured. He also warned against selling liquor after closing hours. He said that "you know this is bad" and that "some places which are turning the men who are trying to obey the law."

He said he had called the proprietors together without having one violation charged specifically against any certain proprietor, added that the business has been legalized and told them that if they do the right thing they may expect no trouble during the next four years; otherwise he warned significantly they can expect trouble.

And then he described how the police can cause trouble for places which prove a nuisance. He said the city can proceed under the nuisance ordinance. He said the health laws also must be obeyed. He declared also that the establishments should not allow sales of liquor on Sunday and then introduced the sheriff, Edward Pritchard.

Pritchard urged that the men put more principle into their business. He said some people want the law more elastic but he pleaded "Don't make it so elastic we will lose morale." He told of parents going into beer and liquor parlors, drinking, then dancing and while parents were on the floor, of their children "sipping drinks."

He then told of how things not condoned by law were committed and how these actions are made known to the authorities. In regard to illicit liquor Sheriff Pritchard declared he had received complaints that legal liquor had been mixed with illegal liquor.

He cited the law which gives the county court the right to size, sell and dispose of any auto or any material used in connection with illicit liquor. Relative to the clubs he declared:

"The mayor spoke about the clubs. If you think you are putting it over on anyone you are mistaken." He then told of how persons would put men in charge on the back and then when they became offended at something tell the authorities that things that were going on in the clubs. "We know lots of things you don't think we know," the sheriff added. "We owe it to the citizens to stop these things, if you won't," he told proprietors. He did not mention any specific club.

Mayor McGrath spoke again against the clubs. He said the liquor license did not give them a right to gamble nor run a bawdy house. He declared he had received complaints from wives of men who lost money. The complaints said their husbands had lost all their wages and the wives went so far Mayor McGrath said to state how many were in the games gambling, how many in the establishments.

He said he had no attention to persons who would not face him. He declared he was not a reformer but said that he was a "new broom that sweeps clean" but would sweep the last day in office the same as he did the first day as mayor.

He said in regard to dance licenses that under the law the persons who sell liquor and permit dancing must obey the state law.

Controller Earl Wimer called upon to declare the holding up of refunds declared that he was facing a mandamus proceeding and he did not feel disposed to speak concerning this, however he did say that general revenue is illegal. He said another result can be accomplished. This was in connection with the annual charge of $15.00 for a dance license and $1.00 for a permit for each day dancing is permitted.

A suggestion by Sheriff Pritchard that beer places close at midnight met with only a minority of support.

Judge Lois Downs McBride Speaks Before Woman's Club

Declaring for the stability of homes and the dignity of marriage, as against the action of a multitude of young couples who marry hastily, seemingly considering the sacred rite as "something better than a job," with the result that many of them land in the desertion and non-support, or the divorce courts, Judge Lois Downs McBride, a former local woman, gave a stirring address before the Woman's club and guests, Monday evening, in Highland U. P. church.

Judge McBride is Judge of the Court of Family Relations, of the Allegheny County Bar, and spoke authoritatively, on the subject, "New Marriage Laws and How They Affect the Family," emphasizing the fact that legislation will not cure the deplorable state of affairs in this country today—a phase of which is the great number of young people between the ages of 16-20, in penal, charitable, and other institutions, almost two-thirds of whom have come from divided homes—but that we must start back to Americanism, when America was founded on home protection.

While industry has been developed, families have been forgotten, and since 1929, comparatively nothing has been done for the youth of the country, in training them along lines of moral conduct, with the result that thousands upon thousands of them are wandering over the highways and byways, having lost the stabilizing influence of home life.

The speaker said, "That today we are facing a more drastic battle against our homes, than did our ancestors in Revolutionary times." It seems easier, she went on, "for taxpayers to pay for the upkeep of many of these sad cases in different institutions, than to train them properly." She advocated, as a means of solution of the marriage educational problem, the formation of classes in churches and schools, and uniform marriage and divorce laws throughout the country.

Passage in Pennsylvania of the three day application law is already a step in the right direction, and should be universally adopted. She urged the study of courts, and left with her audience many problems relative to a program for social protection of families.

In introducing Judge McBride, Mrs. E. F. G. Harper, who by the way is her cousin, spoke of the former's popularity as a speaker, saying that beneath her dignified official manner, her professional demeanor, her heart beats the same as all women's, "for the good of humanity" and that her "hobby"—if such it could be called—"was taking broken pieces of humanity and inspiring them to weave threads of their lives together again, for their ultimate good."

A few people in the audience, last night, were pleased to remember Judge McBride as the former Lois Downs, who at one time, was a member of the local school system before she studied law.

The meeting was conducted under the auspices of the American Home department, Mrs. J. J. Fisher chairman, who before announcing Mrs. Harper's introduction of the guest speaker, spoke of the endeavors of the Home branch of the Woman's club, both past and future.

She mentioned three outstanding programs, one on "Crime Prevention," recently, at which, Juvenile Officer Jack Dunlap and Chief of Police John Haven gave worthwhile talks on "Contributing Causes of Crime." A second program, which will feature Dr. E. F. Henderson, as a guest speaker on a medical subject; and a third, one to be held in April, on the theme, "Know Your Federation." This last meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Paul B. Howe, president of the Beaver County Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. A. P. Treser, head of the Lawrence County organization.

Previous to Mrs. Fisher's taking over the program, the usual business session was conducted by the Theoretically Wiped Out.

Girls Write In Blood.
Far-Flung Money Line.
The Biggest Chess Game.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

OUR ARMY, experimenting theoretically with bombing planes over Mitchell Field, found it easy to destroy that bulwark of the aerial defense of New York City. The air field "was theoretically destroyed" and "the fireproof hangars and barracks, constructed at a cost of nearly $5,000,000, were all theoretically wiped out."

If real war came and this country were found unprepared as it is now, there would be nothing "theoretical" about the "wiping out," and foreign bombers would not limit their activities to the Mitchell Air Field. They would move on to New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and other more important points. This has been said often but, apparently, not often enough.

EASTERN PEOPLE are supposed to be "unpassive," all emotion controlled. Japanese especially; and they are as we see them here. At home it is otherwise. Col. Akira, who murdered Gen. Nagata "for the good of the emperor," he said, burst into tears at his trial, twice in one day, once when the prosecutor showed him letters written by two young school girls in their own blood, demanding his acquittal.

Ladies here sometimes sympathize with criminals, send them flowers, but never write about in their own blood. The East feels intensely.

AMERICAN financial enterprises seem to be almost as "far flung" as Kipling's imperial battle line.

In China, Mr. F. J. Raven, born in California, married the "daughter of a wealthy missionary family." You wonder how the missionary family got wealthy and then follow Mr. Raven as he builds up gigantic financial institutions in China; The American Oriental Banking Corporation, the American Oriental Finance Company, the Raven Trust Company, the Asia Realty Company, etc.

They have all crashed together, depositors got 7 1/2 per cent, may get 20, no more; stockholders got nothing, thousands ruined.

THAT IS easy enough, here at home, but it must take unusual ability to go and do it in China, in the Chinese language.

Of Mr. Raven it must be added that he always "continued to engage in church activities."

MEMORY OF THE NINETIES

Men used to drink in the nineties

When I was a youngster small,

But always the old horse knew the way

Back home to the barn and stall.

Then the neighborhood snot could drop the rein

On the dashboard at his feet

And Dobbin would canter him home again

While he snoozed on the buggy seat.

When the wine was red and the beer wore foam

Twas a common sight to see

The gay mare taking her master home

From a night of revelry.

She would jog along with a clinkety-clink

With her sudden, senseless load

And even stop at the railroad track

For the old horse knew the road.

But times have changed and the foolish man

No more has a faithful friend.

Life has speeded up to winter plan

Death lurks at each curve and bend

And the fool who climbs in a motor car

With a booze-befuddled brain

Has but to doze where the dangers are

And he doesn't get home again.

So I pen this verse to the nineties gay.

Although drunkenness I condemn.

At least for the sets of old, I'll say

They had horses to care for them.

They never killed children on the street.

When their brains began to roam

They could safely snooze on the buggy seat

And Dobbin would take them home.

"Excuse me, sir," he said, "but do

"Can you direct me to the best the stranger.

"I believe I can," answered the actually proved it against him."

Local authorities seem to be kept pretty busy lately trying to figure out whether the bones they dig up belong to animals or humans. First, what was supposed to be a human hand, found in Pulaski township, turned out to be the claws of an animal. Then some more bones out in Scott township were diagnosed as having been the property of a calf. It may not be exactly to their liking to scrape around among these "remains," but it gives the authorities something to do.

A TIGHT SPOT

Speaking of weddings, a friend passed up to us an account of a ceremony that became mighty near to being frustrated by the best man.

The best man's chief duty, of course, is to hold the wedding ring and have it handy when it is requested by the presiding official. So, making sure he wouldn't lose it, this best man applied an old trick to the lesson — best men. He slipped it on one of his fingers.

Well, when it came time for the ring to be handed over, there was a strange silence. The preacher turned to the best man, the groom looked at him, and even the bride peered out of the corner of her eye. There he stood, the best man, nervously tugging at one of his fingers, flushed and perspiring, he worked frantically as the seconds would give employment to skilled mechanics. The big problem for most industries is to find a market for their product, but think how many suits of clothes are bought every year in New Castle and Lawrence county. A clothing manufactory could be started in a small way and be built up. Looks like a practical proposition.

There may be some presidential timber in the Republican woods, but it looks as though a lot of saplings will have to be cut down to reach the tall sycamores.

HOW IT WORKED OUT

"Had a terrible time with my five-year-old."

"Yeah?"

"Yep. Bought a carburetor that saved fifty per cent of the gas; a timer that saved thirty-five per cent more; and a set of spark plugs that saved another twenty-five per cent. After I had gone ten miles, my gas tank overflowed."

ticked into minutes, and still the ring would not budge.

Finally, when it appeared that the ceremony might be delayed, the matron of honor passed her own wedding ring over to the groom. The wedding proceeded and was ended, but it was several minutes later before the best man could work the ring off his finger with the help of soap and water.

Fear Hidden Factors.
Whispering Part Of Campaign.
Borah Already On Spot.Central Press
Cleveland Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Feb. 4.—The hidden elements, that seldom are discussed out loud, will play an important part in the Republican convention in Cleveland. Those elements may lead to the defeat of particular candidates for the Presidential nomination.

One such hidden element already has been brought to the surface. Senator William E. Borah of Idaho voted against the anti-lynching bill. The Negro population of large industrial centers has become so large that it can mean victory or defeat for a party in such states as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri.

The same issue can be worked both ways, as observe this:

Included in the vicious underground propaganda being used against President Roosevelt (not with the consent of the Republican party) is a story that he employs a Negro clerk (among the many clerks) in the White House, that a Negro was received at the White House, and that he tacitly favored the anti-lynching bill.

Visitors to the United States may be appalled at such manifestations with the politicians recognize them as part of the game. Much of the publicity, however, seems unaware of these hidden forces and is shocked when the whispers become public.

Unquestionably, the majority of people of the south will accept such attacks on President Roosevelt for the little they are worth. But Senator Borah is in a more awkward situation. Republican leaders desire a man who can carry the industrial states, otherwise there would be no need to nominate anybody.

OTHER WHISPERS

Other whispers can be heard in Cleveland:

"He's a drier!"

"He's a Townsendite!"

"He spoke against Townsend — and Townsendites are out for him!"

"He favored the Roosevelt farm plan!"

"He said things the farmers didn't like!"

"He voted against the bonus!"

"He once said there ought to be an amendment to the constitution!"

"Father Coughlin is out for him!"

"He got a lot of funds out of the New Deal!"

"He goes with too many millionaires!"

"He was tied up with Hoover!"

MINORITIES

The Republican party will spread the word that it recognizes the Negroes as a minority which ought to be protected. There even may be something in the platform concerning that.

The latest episode in the Scottsboro tragedy intensifies the opportunity.

The story that appeared in New York papers concerning what defense attorneys believe to be the facts in the shooting of one of the Scottsboro defendants has made a deep impression not merely upon members of the colored race, but upon liberals. This is an important beneath-the-surface consideration.

The attorneys say their clients were subjected to intimidation almost to the degree of legal lynching by officers of the law. The facts in the shooting of one of the Scottsboro defendants has made a deep impression not merely upon members of the colored race, but upon liberals. This is an important beneath-the-surface consideration.

This specific intimidation was alleged to have been over the lawyers themselves. Some of the officers were said to have demanded that the defendants tell the court that they repudiated their counsel—then the lawyers would be driven out of town.

How the Democrats can overcome that in the industrial north is not a Republican worry. But that it should be a Republican issue—because of Borah—so early in the campaign, is quite another matter.

Dear Miss Markel—I am to escort a girl to a debutante's ball. Should I send both her and the debutant a bouquet? Also should I ask the debutante's mother to dance? And should I remove my white evening gloves before shaking hands?

Answer—You should send a bouquet to the debutante who is being presented. And the thoughtful man will always send a corsage to the girl he takes to any formal affair, something "to set off" her evening dress.

If there is a lull in activities, you might ask the debutante's mother to dance; but usually she is so busy that she cannot find time to do so. However, she will probably appreciate such thoughtfulness.

Although a man should remove his "street" gloves before shaking hands, he should not, for this purpose, remove gloves worn indoors at formal evening or daytime affairs.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from readers enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Dining Table Service.

ST. ANDREWS GUILD HONORS BIRTHDAYS

Junior Guild members of St. Andrews church, were guests of Mrs. William Wignall Monday evening, following their regular session in their rooms at St. Andrews church. The occasion was planned in a secret manner, to honor two of their number, Miss Ann Hitchen and Mrs. Evan Evans, whose birthdays fall due this month, which proved a complete surprise.

After the devotional period, in charge of Mrs. T. J. Evans, the group entered into the dining room which was attractively decorated in tones suggestive of the season. A large table, adorned with branching crystal candelabra holding burning tapers at either end, guarded a unique centerpiece of cupids and hearts. Novel candy hearts were given as favors to each. A toast was sung to Miss Hitchen and Mrs. Evans by the Guild, informing them that the party was expressly held in their honor. Mrs. Wignall was assisted in serving a tasty repast by Mrs. Donald Barber and Miss Kathryn Smith.

Toward the close of the evening, each guest of honor, was again surprised, when given heart shaped baskets, containing a number of dainty hankies, in memory of the occasion.

Would Abrogate Five-Day Clause In Coal Contract

Threatened Coal Shortage
Causes Action By Coal
Producers

(International News Service)

J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Coal Control Association of Western Pennsylvania, revealed an exchange of telegrams in which John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced that district union officials were authorized to co-operate with producers to permit an increase in schedules to meet the possible crisis.

Although the warmer weather made conditions less acute, it was believed possible a shortage may occur in February, usually the coldest month of the year.

The short-week clause has been lifted temporarily in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Alabama, it was learned.

Search Widens For Wisconsin Man

Trucking Contractor Is Believed Kidnaped Or Slain
At Chicago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Department of justice agents mobilized here today as the government's ace sleuths joined police searching for Harry H. Wells, 38-year-old Wisconsin trucking contractor, believed kidnaped and either slain or being held for ransom.

Mrs. James Woods, Jr., manager of a North Side apartment hotel, told investigators she saw a green car similar to Wells' forced to the curb last Tuesday evening.

"A large black car forced the green one over so it crashed into a fire plug," she said. "A man jumped out of the larger car and ran over to the driver of the green car."

"My attention was distracted for a moment and when I looked again I saw both cars driving away."

Mrs. Woods' information was the result of a canvass of the neighborhood after Wells' keys were found in the snow beside the curb and turned over to police.

Wells' abandoned car was found by police Wednesday.

American Can Officials Guests

Foremen And Assistant Foremen Banquet Guests On Monday Evening

Foremen and assistant foremen of the American Can Company were guests of the company Monday evening in The Castleton Hotel when a dinner and program was held. Special guests of the evening were James A. Stewart, formerly assistant district manager of the central district who has been promoted to the New York office, and Garlan W. Reese, of Chicago, Ill., who takes Mr. Stewart's place as assistant district manager. The evening was a farewell to Mr. Stewart and a welcome to Mr. Reese.

Following a bounteous dinner, B. H. Kannenberg, superintendent of the New Castle plant, acted as toastmaster and presented the speakers of the evening. Most of the men present spoke and all of them sang, with William Ellis at the piano. It was an evening of good fellowship which was enjoyed by the men present.

A balanced ration is an abundance of a variety of clean, wholesome food, which is not too much changed in the cooking, but is carefully prepared, attractively served and eaten in the midst of peace, quiet and contentment.

Probing Death Of Amherst Student

May Have Been Victim Of Accident, Suicide Or Murder Is Belief

(International News Service)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 4.—"Disaster here in sight."
That pencil-scribbled notation found in a textbook, together with a drawing of a pierced heart, today were the only clues held by police seeking to determine whether Francis O. Grose, Amherst freshman from Great Neck, L. I., was a victim of murder, suicide or accident. The notation and heart were found in a textbook in the boy's dormitory room.

The battered body of the 20-year-old youth was found on the ice of the Connecticut river under a 40-foot railroad bridge. His skull was fractured, there was a deep gash in his head, several ribs were fractured, a lung punctured and both kidneys ruptured.

Dozen Firemen Suffer Injuries In Philadelphia

Storage Battery Company
Destroyed By Fire, Damage Is Extensive

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—More than a dozen firemen were injured and extensive property damage was done today when a three-alarm blaze destroyed the finishing building at the giant plant of the Electric Storage Battery Company here.
For three hours, the flames threatened to envelop the entire plant, valued at upwards of a million dollars. At the height of the blaze huge vats of sulphuric acid poured clouds of choking fumes around the hosiery.
Although no firemen were overcome by the poisonous fumes, first chief Ross B. Davis expressed the belief that many will feel the effects of the cases later. Under similar conditions firemen have collapsed several days later, Davis explained.

Synthetic Radium Newest Discovery

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 4.—With the aid of a huge "atom smasher," Dr. J. J. Livingood, research associate at the University of California science laboratory, has succeeded in manufacturing synthetic radium from Bismuth.
By bombarding it with the nuclei of double weight hydrogen atoms, bismuth has assumed radioactive characteristics in infinitesimal quantities.
The type of radium produced is known to science as "radium E," one of the forms through which natural radium passes before completely decomposing into lifeless lead.

Freight Wreckage Is Being Cleared

Wreckage Of 38 Loaded
Cars Near Altoona, Ties
Up Traffic

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 4.—Traffic on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad gradually approached normalcy today as the wreckage of 38 loaded freight cars at Union Furnace, 18 miles east of here, was removed.

No one was reported injured in the wreck which was believed to have been one of the most serious and costly in the last 25 years. An eastbound train with 39 cars figured in the wreck. A broken flange on the westbound train was believed responsible. Thirty loaded cars were destroyed and 35 others were derailed.

Traffic Tied Up
As the cars of the westbound train were derailed, they were hauled into the other train on a parallel track. Crack passenger trains arrived in Pittsburgh from 30 minutes to four hours late this morning. Traffic was cleared over the Petersburg and Bald Eagle branches.
The wreck occurred about 7:15 last night. Traffic was resumed at 6 this morning. Rails were torn up for a distance of more than 500 feet. Much of the freight eastbound was food supplies in refrigerator cars.

Queen's Husband To Be Presented

Theatre Guild Presenting Play
Thursday Night At George Washington Auditorium

"The time has come," the walrus said, "To speak of many things: Of ships and shoes and sealing wax; Of cabbages and kings." The time has come indeed to speak of kings in general and one in particular: the Queen's husband. At least that is the name Robert Sherwood gave his play. He might have called it, "Kings over Ethiopia," or the "Revolt of Casper Milquetoast" and you would have had the idea of the plot. But he didn't; he called it simply: "The Queen's Husband" which gives you an idea of the type of person the queen is as well as the king. All this by way of saying that the New Castle Theatre Guild is giving the "Queen's Husband" Thursday of this week at the George Washington auditorium.

The story takes place in a mythical kingdom somewhere over the sea; and how a henpecked little king (Bob Turner) subdues a high powered prime minister (Tom Cunningham) a pack of howling anarchists bombing the palace walls, and a shrewish queen (Betty Glover) will prove well worth going some distance to see.

ILLINOIS GOVERNOR ASKS PROBE OF PRISONS

Invites Sixteen To Head Probers

Four Nationally Known Penologists Included In List By Governor

LOEB CASE BRINGS URGE FOR INQUIRY

(International News Service) JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 4.—Investigation of the razor slaying of Richard Loeb by a fellow convict was overshadowed today by invitation dispatched to 16 men, including four nationally known penologists, to conduct a sweeping inquiry into charges of laxity and inefficiency in administration of all Illinois penal institutions.

Sanford Bates, director of federal prisons, Lewis Lawes, warden of Sing Sing, Roy Best, head of the Colorado State prison at Canyon City, and Oscar Lee, warden of the state penitentiary at Joliet, are among those invited by Gov. Henry Horner last night to form the investigating commission.

Gives Free Hand Gov. Horner's invitation gives the commission a free hand in conducting their inquiry into the charges, outgrowth of the slaying of Loeb a week ago today.

"I have determined on a thorough and impartial investigation," Governor Horner wrote, "of all policies and methods in vogue in the administration of our penal institutions and their practical application."

"I am asking this commission to adopt its own methods of procedure and would have its scope of inquiry extend...into all branches of our penal institutions."

Others from whom acceptance of the invitation was awaited today include Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the U. S. Shipping board, Col. Henry B. Chamberlain, director of the Chicago crime commission and Bishop J. H. Schlarman, head of the Peoria diocese of the Catholic church.

Miss Houston Wins Scholarship Award

Westminster College's Second Award Is Presented To Her

Nellie E. Houston, one of the 184 Senior high school students graduated last Friday night, was awarded a Westminster college scholarship today.

Miss Houston received the award after Miss Betty Lou Orr, another honor student, had declined it. Principal Frank L. Orth's release of scholarship winners for the senior class carried Miss Orr's name. It was after publication that she declined it.

"Miss Houston became eligible for the second scholarship from Westminster when Miss Orr decided not to accept it," Mr. Orth said.

The first Westminster scholarship was won by Margaret Louise McCracken and the third by Ruth Connor.

DRIVER OF CAR IS DEAD FROM BURNS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 4.—Badly burned in fire which broke out when his car went into a ditch about 13 miles southwest of here, Thomas C. Stevenson of Akron, died later in the Youngstown hospital. State highway patrolmen, reconstructing the accident, said they thought the gasoline tank, in the cow, cracked in the impact, and gasoline poured down upon Stevenson's legs and caught fire. Stevenson was found lying in a snow drift not far from the car.

Cold Spell Brought Jobs For Many And Suffering To Others

(International News Service) Pennsylvania's extended cold spell which gave Pa. Penn. a bitter taste of a real "old fashioned winter" may have been tough on John Q. Public but it proved a boon to coal miners and operators, the railroads, plumbers and vendors of ear muffs. Coal supplies melted like butter over a fire in western Pennsylvania as frozen householders clamored for more fuel to fill their empty bins. Deliveries in many cases were on a six-day notice.

Use Railroad Cars. Many mines in western Pennsylvania operated on Saturday for the first time in years. Although prohibited by union law from working more than 35 hours a week, miners worked Saturday under a staggering system in order to prevent suffering from depleted supplies.

With coal barges held fast in ice-clogged rivers, many mines turned to the use of railroad cars in the western part of the state, bringing increased rail business.

The bitter cold over the entire Atlantic seaboard boosted the demand for anthracite and shipments from the hard coal region spurred as black diamonds were rushed to eastern Pennsylvania and up and down the coast.

Sell Ear Muffs. Plumbers became monarchs as pipes burst with the frequency of pop corn in a roaster. Stores that hadn't sold an ear muff in a decade blew the dust off the boxes and dispensed them like hotcakes. Windshield defrosters and automobile heaters went just as fast in accessory shops.

Hundreds of men were given employment clearing roads and streets of the snow.

Has Tragic Side. The picture had its tragic side, too. Slippery roadways took a toll of human life in automobile accidents. Many were injured in falls. Fires were numerous. Thousands of cases of frostbite were reported. Stores and motion picture theaters were deserted during the coldest days.

Transportation was disrupted. Fruit dealers suffered when their produce was damaged in transit or after arriving in the frigid north. Milk and cream froze on doorsteps, giving dairy companies plenty of headaches. And the farmer still hasn't counted up his losses.

On Court House Hill

Under the will of the late Bernard Nord, of Besenmer, which has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office, all of decedent's property is left to his wife, Gertrude M. Nord, who is also named executrix.

County Commissioners, who have started to work on the budget for 1936 expect that it will take them from a week to ten days to figure out the expenditures that will be needed. An effort is to be made to pare down wherever possible, but there are some departments in which very little change can be made, such as the amount of money necessary to keep prisoners in penal institutions, and inmates in hospitals.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Saving! No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.

From any drugist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and tastes fine.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness in a way that is really astonishing. Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect in stopping coughs quickly. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

The state health department has decided to construct sanitary out-houses in forty-two counties of the state in communities, lacking sewer facilities. It is said that more than 1,400 men will be put to work on the project which involves an expenditure of $275,000 for wages and $180,000 for materials. The program was worked out by the health department in co-operation with the United States Public Health Service. Cement will be largely used in the work.

A certiorari has been awarded by the court in the case of N. C. Kuhn against K. C. Host, which was tried before J. R. Broadbeck, Justice of the Peace of North Beaver township. The amount involved is $211.55.

Grade Crossing Complaint Filed

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—Alleging the Rice avenue grade crossing in North Girard, Erie County, is dangerous and should be replaced by a bridge, a complaint was filed with the public service commission today by Perry E. Kramer, of North Girard.

The complaint was filed against the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company, the boroughs of Girard and North Girard, the state highways department and Erie County.

Rice avenue, also known as township highway Route No. 374, connects Girard and North Girard, as well as state highway Route No. 20 and 99. Pointing out traffic over the crossing is heavy, Kramer alleged trains are operated at the crossing at excessive speed and that there have been a number of accidents, two recently in which four persons were killed.

Insects, Too, Have Color Preferences

(International News Service) AMHERST, Mass.—Insects have their color preferences just as human beings. Moths and winged cutworms, for instance, just do not red.

If you want to avoid insect bites on hot summer nights, don't sit under a blue light. It's the mosquito's weakness. He just can't resist the tender shades of blue. Gnats, march flies, crane flies and midges are also strong for that color. Another kind of fly, the spearing, likes green.

All these facts were discovered by A. L. Bourne, research professor entomology at Massachusetts State College. He discovered insect color preferences by using two kinds of traps. One was an electric light bulb suspended over a pan of water. The other was a light surrounded by a charged wire grid which electrocuted the insects as they flew toward the light. He used different colored lights to catch a different variety of insects.

"DARK OBJECT" PROVES TO BE ANNOYING

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 4.—A "Dark Object" which Daisy Abraham claims frightened her as it bounded for the cellar may cause the latter some "dark days"—for it resulted in the discovery of her person in the arms of another woman's husband.

Daisy claims the "object" frightened her so that she fainted in the arms of David Abraham, brother of her deceased husband.

David's wife found the pair and sued for $20,000 for the alienation of her husband's affections.

Car Kills 'Dead' Woman Who Fled From Her Coffin

(International News Service)

MOINESTI, Roumania.—Tens of mourners who attended the burial of Anna Bochinsky were frightened out of their wits when the dead woman jumped out of her coffin while it was being carried with the lid open—as is the custom in Roumania—from the cemetery chapel to the grave.

Not only did Anna jump out of the coffin but she made a desperate run toward the road, only to be run over and killed by a rushing automobile.

Anna suffered from a heart disease and her first death was only apparent. She came to life a few minutes before being interred and was so frightened by the preparations for her burial that she ran away. After the mourners overcame their first shock they ran after her but when they reached Anna she was dead.

Plan To Launch New Destroyer

(International News Service)

VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 4.—The U. S. S. Smith, 1500 tons of sleek speed and Uncle Sam's newest, fastest destroyer, will be launched at Mare Island navy yard Feb. 20, according to an announcement which had been made public today by the navy department.

The U. S. S. Smith is named in memory of Lieut. Joseph Bryant Smith, who was killed in an engagement between the U. S. S. Congress, which he commanded, and the Merrimac on March 8, 1862.

Shows Promise As Child Dancer

If futures of youngsters can be determined at an early age by their actions and childish ways, Eileen Ann Logan, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Logan, of 506 Riverside avenue will undoubtedly turn out to be a famous dancer.

Miss Logan, although only 18 months old, keeps excellent time to radio music while lightly tripping across the floor on her small toes. Several actions point to the fact that perhaps her ambition is to be an acrobatic dancer.

China, which has an area of about the total areas of the United States and Mexico, contains one-fourth of the world's inhabitants.

CHARGES EFFORT MADE TO BLOCK NEUTRALITY BILL

action on the request pending further hearings.

"I have reasons to believe that certain interests are fighting this bill," McReynolds said. "I have been advised it is one of the worst lobbies around here. Some members of the house don't want to vote for the bill because they have been told it means interference with certain types of trade."

McReynolds bitterly assailed statements made before the Senate Foreign Relations committee by John Bassett Moore, noted authority on international law, who characterized the proposed neutrality legislation as a move to place the United States in the league of nations.

"That statement is far-fetched," McReynolds declared. "We are merely trying to pass domestic legislation to prevent our people from becoming embroiled in war. There is no reason for such criticism."

President Roosevelt has not conferred with any foreign nation in the preparation of this bill and no representative of the league of nations had anything to do with drafting it."

Canadian Woman Has Sixteenth Child In Period Of Ten Years

(International News Service)
TORONTO, Feb. 4.—Giving birth to her 16th child, Mrs. Matthew Kenny today was installed as the favorite in Toronto's half million dollar "baby sweepstakes."

The newest arrival in the Kenny family, 6½ pound girl, made the thirteenth eligible in the stork race, set up under the will of the late Charles Vance Millar, Toronto lawyer and sportsman.

Millar left the bulk of his estate, now estimated at $500,000, to the Toronto mother who gives birth to the most children in the ten year period following his death. The time limit expires next December.

Dispute Arises
So far, Mrs. Kenny, whose 47-year-old husband has been unemployed for several years, has outdistanced all other aspirants. Her closest rival has registered only nine children with the Ontario government in the last nine years.

The question of whether thirteen of the Kenny children are eligible for the contest has been raised, other competitors claiming their births were not properly registered. Mrs. Kenny, however, insists that all have been properly listed with the provincial government.

Phonograph Record Evidence Convicts

(International News Service)
PRAGUE—Evidence heard through the medium of gramophone records helped to convict a man in a Czechoslovak court, at Opava, Troppau.

Anton Mayer was charged with having used insulting language about the Czechoslovak government and its president.

The two chief witnesses were of German nationality and lived in Germany. They wrote to the court that they were afraid to appear before it as their evidence might arouse some of the Mayer's sympathizers to acts of reprisal.

The court acknowledged their difficulty—but declared that it was legally necessary that their evidence should be given verbally. Their attendance thus seemed unavoidable.

Then someone had an idea. The two witnesses recorded their evidence on gramophone records, and sent them along to the court.

"This evidence" was accepted and the records played in court. Mayer was fined.

Tells Aims Of Musical Group Backing Pupils

Play, Amateur Night And Operetta Planned To Benefit Students

PURPOSE OF MOVE OUTLINED HERE

The Citizens and Parents Music association is an organization recently formed for the purpose of furthering the cause of music in the public schools here. Mrs. Joseph F. Replogle, president of the organization, stressed today.

"It is the intention of the organization in time to carry out a well balanced plan for assistance and support for the organization representing the schools and the city," she continued. "The immediate purpose of the venture is to finance the instrumental and vocal contests in which our schools will soon be represented."

The contests, it was further emphasized, are considered so important and necessary because they have proven so effective in reaching so many girls and boys and in keeping them interested in music. Communities everywhere have been organizing in support of the contest idea because the people in these communities recognized the value for this source of motivation not only from the standpoint of the boys and girls but of the community at large.

Even Sunday school classes have contests to increase membership and arouse interest. The band and orchestra contests have been so effective that many of the school bands and orchestras represented in the national contest are inspiration even to the country's finest musicians.

Contests require the outlay of money for judges, awards, traveling expense and other things. It is no longer possible for the boys and girls playing in high school organizations to raise the necessary contest funds unless they have some backing. Communities vary in their support of the organizations from providing the necessary funds for the transportation and dues to that of providing (in Hammond, Ind.) for individual lessons for each member of the organizations from the best teachers available.

Efforts of the newly formed organization to raise contest expense funds for the musicians here this spring will include the following: Thursday, February 13—At Senior high school a one-act play, popular songs (band and audience) with coffee being served in the lobby.

Friday, March 6—At the Cathedral, an "Amateur Night."

Friday, March 20—At Senior high school, an operetta, "Lelawala."

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S. Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—When Postmaster General James A. Farley prophesied that the national campaign upon which the country is entering will be an exceptionally "dirty" one, it is evident that he didn't predict exaggeratedly.

Perhaps it would be more nearly exact to say that it is becoming a vicious, wicked, rather than a dirty campaign.

However, the P. M. K. is speaking in ring parlance when he said "dirty." A professional prize fighter doesn't necessarily mean that personal mud is slung in a dirty combat. He means that the combatants hit low, bite, gouge and butt. His idea of a dirty engagement is one in which Queensbury rules are disregarded wholesale, an engagement in which there are many technical fouls.

TOO MANY FOULS

What is known to ringfaster as a "battle royal" is likely to degenerate into a saturnalia of fouls.

A battle royal is not a serious prize fight. It is put on as a comedy attraction among the "prelims" leading up to what is to be the real thing. Usually a half dozen Negroes are tossed together into the squared circle, to see who can survive.

Naturally no referee can keep track of such a mixup. If it happens to be a friendly match, all very well. Otherwise there may be ears and noses and eyeballs to be swept up before the next number goes on. I don't know that they have battles royal now. They did in my day as a police reporter.

BARROOM FIGHT

Another and more serious type of free-for-all is what is described as a "barroom fight."

A barroom fight unavoidably means business. Heaven help the barroom fighter, who stands on Queensbury rules—his opponent won't or wouldn't in pre-prohibition times; this era is less informal.

Skill was involved in digging an adversary's eye out in the pre-prohibition period.

An adept at the one-time art of barroom fighting once told me, "If, in a barroom fight, you see a chance to get the other fellow's thumb between your teeth, don't take it. If you do, nothing can prevent him from getting his fingers into your eyesockets."

I experimented, tentatively, with my own mouth and my own thumb.

"It seems to me," I submitted, "that a thumb can be so clamped as to prevent its owner's fingers from getting anywhere effectively, without twisting the thumb clean off."

"And what of it?" rejoined my mentor. "In a fight like that, who cares for his thumbs?"

WHO CARES FOR THUMB?

In such a fight as Al Smith's against President Roosevelt's, who cares for his thumb?

In the fight of Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia against the New Deal, who cares for his thumb? What about the surviving element of the late Huey P. Long's machine in Louisiana?—it doesn't care a picayune for its thumb.

P. M. G. Farley reckons that it makes for a dirty campaign. It does.

FARLEY'S PLEA

Farley wants what he interprets as fair play.

He may get it, or he may get barroom fighting.

The Republicans are somewhat more decorous with their 1936 campaign. There are more of them such as Landon, Borah, Knox, Vandenberg, and Dickinson, but they are not so ugly among themselves.

St. David's Day To Be Observed

Party To Be Held At First Congregational Church On February 29

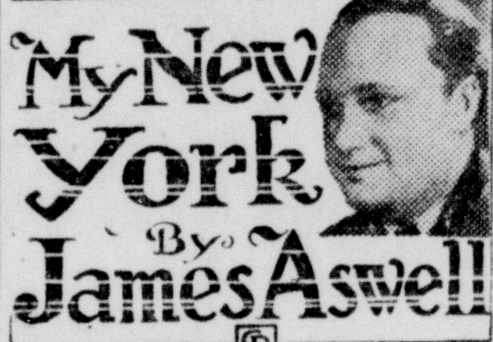

St. David, the patron saint of Wales, will be celebrated in song and oratory here on Saturday night, February 29 when the True Ivoirites of America and the Martha Lodge hold a St. David's party in the First Congregational church.

A St. David's party means an old fashioned Welsh tea party and this will be a part of the evening's program. In the dining room of the church there will be served a typical Welsh lunch with the women of the Martha lodge serving it.

Later, in the auditorium of the church, there will be a St. David's program with outstanding speaker delivering the address. At the present time an effort is being made to get Attorney Raymond D. Evans, former assistant Federal district attorney of Pittsburgh as the speaker.

For the True Ivoirites, a committee consisting of Harry T. Jones, Harry Davies and Thomas Thomas is in charge. For the women's lodge the committee will consist of Mrs. Ruth Matthews, Mrs. David Lewis, Mrs. Margaret Davies, Mrs. Gwen Vogan and Mrs. Daniel Geraghty.

The only licensed woman airplane pilot in South Dakota, Mrs. Nellie Zable White of Sioux Falls is deaf, but she has 2,000 flying hours to her credit.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Randomusing: It remains a mystery how the drama sages snoot the night clubs, although always willing to blubber for paragraphs over some new shooting revue. . . . The new show at the French Casino, for spectacle, imagination, flash, dazzle and tuneful lilt, has most of the big musicals backed off the map. . . . It makes the rather stuffy "Jubilee", for example, look pretty silly. . . . Studies in mustachios: Ben Sondheim's flaming actor, Ray Hen-den's the "Katharine Cornell's press agent) reddish officer-tufts: Nicholas Murray Butler's lip-fitter: Bill Powell's mosquito wings; Groucho Marx's burnt cork daubs; Ernest Hemingway's dourly virile swatch; Somerset Maugham's discreetly graying plot; Jeff Macmer's wax-eaters; Jo Davidson's prairie grass; Bainbridge Colby's collar-ad decorations; Charles Evans Hughes' frosty and dignified disguise; Clifton Webb's slight shadow. . . .

The Theater Guild has happily abandoned the soap-boxes to produce a crackling good comedy, "Call It a Day", which is verba, verba English but full of chuckles and, in the last act, a mordant reality. . . . It is also that Broadway anomaly in these days, a sex comedy in which not a single affront to good taste is committed. . . . Although, for the sake of accuracy, I should add there are some narrow escapes. . . . As a rule, when you see at 13-year-old girl's role enacted on the stage, you discover that the actress rushes home each night to tuck her grandchildren in, having checked her cane and shawl in the wings before the performance. . . . But in "Call It a Day" there is a 13-year-old girl—and what a brash, shrilly convincing hoyden she is—played by a 13-year-old girl: one Jeanne Dante, who was born in 1923, not in Italy, but in Norfolk, Virginia. . . . She got her start seven years ago reading scenes from Shakespeare into radio microphones. . . . Incidentally, her explanation of why two thin slices of buttered bread taste better than one thick slice is an eloquent gem: "More butter!" . . . Physiognomy note: I sat across the aisle from Robert Benchley and he didn't smile once. . . . Maybe he's one of those interior laughers. . . .

The looniest departure in the hoopla salons in recent months is the introduction of fencing to take the place of ballroom dancing in the uptown King Cole room of the St. Regis. . . . Aldo Nadi, the sword master, is world champion and is in America by special permission of Duce, who needs most of his premier blade wielders at home these days. . . . George Santelli, American open champion, is his partner—and I should say his opponent—or they make a merry clashing to the joy of the crowd, in low-dress set which throughs the jert. . . . Oh, yes; there's another curio delighting the night prowlers. . . . Charlotte Lambertson, who is absolutely deaf, whirls nightly at the Hollywood and, to these eyes, has the terpsichorean drop on Miss Eleanor Powell, who, it is just possible, was a wee bit over-ballyhooed. . . .

Lucy Cotton Thomas McGraw, the sassiest lady of many moods and quaint whimsies, loaned her solid gold dinner service for the President's Birthday Ball festivities at the Central Park Casino. . . . Pinkerton detectives scanned the guest list and stood about protectively during the gayety. . . . I wonder if hamburger tastes any better off gold. . . . Now that the parlors are buzzing with intelligence tests, it may not be out of place to print one of the standard quizzes which are being used to classify friends and enemies as morons. . . . If a number of cells are placed in a bottle and these cells multiply so that their number doubles every minute, assume that the bottle is exactly half full in 23 minutes. . . . How long before the bottle will be full? . . . One minute, you moron! . . . If it takes you feel any better, this reporter tried to work that one out with the aid of a mathematical progression—which he never learned properly and couldn't do anyhow.

Section Three Rivals To Clash

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Will Try Hard For Victory Here

COVELLI-ADAMS MAY PLAY GUARDS

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" basketball team will resume its Section Three W. P. L. A. L. floor season here tonight at George Washington high floor after a lapse of two weeks, in which the locals dropped from the leadership to a tie for third place. The preliminary game will start at 7 o'clock.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is anxious to get started on another winning streak and he may switch the lineup around a little tonight to try and get the boys out of the slump. Carik will probably remain at forward with Mumford likely to be switched back to a guard job and either Adams or DeCaprio being pushed into the forward spot.

Grommes Valuable Man
Emil Grommes, one of the most improved men on the squad, will be at the jumping post, with Dom Covelli, better known by "Jap," holding down the one guard job. DeCaprio and Adams are fighting it out for the regular starting berth with the varsity. Both boys are good.

New Castle lambasted Ambridge 28 to 22 at the Ambridge floor on January 7, and there is a strong hope around Senior high today that the Pa. Newcastians can turn the trick again on the "Bridgers" tonight. Without Toscano and Cabas, this is going to be quite a trick. Coach Moe Rubenscan can be depended upon to have a fast team on the court.

Beaver Falls defeated Ambridge the other night 42 to 30 and New Castle is anxious to defeat Ambridge by an even larger count if possible. New Castle has not forgotten the defeat handed them by the Ambridge team at Beaver Falls in one of the W. P. L. A. L. play-offs.

May Change Lineup

The other Section Three games tonight will be as follows: Beaver Falls, the league leaders, will be at home with the Ellwood City high team playing in the valley; the New Brighton team will play at Butler.

Following are the probable lineups for tonight:

New Castle Pos. Ambridge
Carik.....F.....Mushet

Adams.....G.....Matzie
Grommes.....G.....Wail
Covelli.....G.....Rapso

Tigers, Bears Lead Circuits

Floor Leagues In Mahoningtown And Lincoln Gymnasium Attract Many

Basketball leagues, conducted in the Mahoning and Lincoln-Garfield gymnasium, under the supervision of Charles "Tip" Richards, are proving beneficial to an unusual number of young men.

Some of the best independent passers in the city are members of the eight teams. Rivalry which is keen, results in exciting contests. In the Lincoln gym circuit, the Lincoln Tigers are in first place. The Seventh Ward League leaders are the Wabash Bears.

Pre-Historic Court Found At Pueblo

(International News Service)
SNAKETOOWN, ARIZ.—A vast ball court, like that of the Mayans which measures more than a city block, has been discovered near this Pima Indian village by an archaeological expedition led by Emil Haury, of the Gila Pueblo Museum of Globe, Ariz.

This is the second ball court to have been found in Arizona, one having been located a few weeks ago near Flagstaff, and archaeologists believe the courts tend to prove that there was an interchange of ideas across the 2,000 miles which separate the Southwestern Pueblo cultures from those in Yucatan.

St. Pauls Lutherans First-Half Champions

Defeat First Presbyterians 30 To 22 Monday Night For Title

First M. E. Team Tops Third U. P., Farrell Y. M. H. A. Trims Tifereth Israels

St. Paul's Lutheran church basketball team annexed the championship of the Church A first half championship last night at the Y. M. C. A. floor by defeating the First Presbyterian church team 30 to 22 in the final game of the first round of the league. The St. Paul's won eight games and lost but two. The Presbyterians won seven and lost three.

Deserve To Win

The St. Paul's team was paced by Lang and the Snyder boys, this trio accounting for 23 of the points. The St. Paul's led the first half, 14 to 6, and continued their fine work in the second half, deadlocking the Presbyterians with 16 points apiece.

For the Presbyterians the work of McCormick and Clark was the best, this pair making 15 of the points. The St. Paul's deserved to win the first half title by their grit and sheer determination in spite of the fact that this is the first year of church league competition for the St. Paul's. The boys are receiving congratulations on all sides today and rightly so. It is a fine team and a courageous one.

First M. E. Boys Win

The First M. E. church team handed the Third U. P. boys a 27 to 8 drubbing last night to go into a tie with the Presbyterians for second place in the Church A league.

Spencer led the scoring for the Methodists. For the losers Henderson had the most points.

Farrell Y. M. H. A. Wins

In the third game of the Tifereth Israel boys of New Castle, folded up before the accurate shooting of the Farrell Y. M. H. A. team to the tune of 26 to 17. Szabo and A. Solomon led the scoring.

TO PREVENT FADING

Here is the way to protect your colored clothes from running when in the washing tub. Put a handful of salt in a good-sized bowl of cold water. Let your garment soak in this for half an hour. After this wash with warm water (not too hot) and soap suds. If you see a little color coming out rinse in cold water and salt.

Manager Mistrusts Palmer When He Takes Up Sprinting

Pedlar Palmer, a fighter for 21 years, took to beer as a duck takes to water, and regularly broke training rules.

One day his manager took Pedlar out for road work. After covering six miles, the manager told Pedlar to sprint up a long hill. Pedlar was against it, but the manager won out. The fight went on for several days, with Pedlar, meanwhile trying to mop up a drink of beer or grab a cigarette when the manager wasn't looking.

One day on the road Pedlar ran up that hill, far in advance of the manager, and disappeared.

Here's A Yarn That Tim Hurst Used To Spin Himself

Tim Hurst, former umpire, was such a quaint figure in the national pastime, that many stories are told about him. Credit Billy Evans, who was 20 years an American league umpire, for this one that Tim himself used to tell.

Tim was umpiring in Baltimore one day. There was a man on first base.

"The man started to steal," said Hurst, telling his story.

"As he left the bag he spiked the first baseman and that player attempted to trip him. The second baseman blocked the runner and in sliding into the bag, the runner tried to spike Hugh Jennings, who was playing shortstop.

"Jennings, however, sat on the runner and knocked the man's wind out."

"Meanwhile, the batter hit Wilbert Robinson, who was catching on the hands with his bat so that he couldn't throw, and Robbie trod on my toes with his spikes and shoved his glove into my face so that I couldn't see to give a decision.

"That was quite a difficult situation to be in and was one of the hardest decisions I had to make.

"What did you decide?" Tim was asked.

"I punched Robbie in the ribs, called it a foul and sent the runner back to first," answered Hurst.

Discovers Added Starter

Flelding Yost, director of athletics at University of Michigan, formerly coached the Ann Arbor team. One day the University of Buffalo came to town to play the Yostmen.

The time regulation for the game was 35-minute halves without intermission. At the end of the first half, Michigan was out in front by 65 to 0. So many substitutions had been made that the Buffalo squad was pretty well used up.

Yost suggested the Buffalo coach substitute men as often as he wished without regard to rules.

As the game continued Michigan rolled up a score of 120 to 0. With 15 minutes to play, Yost discovered a big Buffalo player named Simpson on the Michigan side of the field covered with a blanket.

"Simpson, what are you doing here?" You are on the wrong side!" said Yost.

"Don't say anything," Simpson whispered to Yost. "I know where I am. The coach put me in five times already and I'm not going in there again. I know when I've had enough."

Still, big-town people would seem just narrow-minded if they knew as much about your naughtiness.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—"Gilmore" Dobie, who resigned as head coach of football at Cornell, has agreed to take over the football duties at Boston College, John Curley, graduate manager of athletics announced Monday.

The agreement as yet is verbal. Curley said, but the papers will be signed later.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Along Broadway today we find Hal Schumacher, ace right-hander of the Giants, showing his pretty bride of two days the sights of the big town.

Hal says the grocery arm, about which there was some doubt, is stronger than ever, attributed that to bowling all winter, thus stretching and strengthening the muscles.

But it was a bowling alley that ended Johnny Whitehead's winning streak for the White Sox last summer. Johnny, unused to the game, was induced to put in three hours on the alley. The next day he could hardly get a ball up to the plate, and Jimmy Dykes hit the roof when he found out the cause.

Australia Wants 1938 Empire Games

(International News Service)

SYDNEY—Australia is seeking to play host to the 1938 British empire games because that year will also be the 150th anniversary of the first white settlement on this continent.

The first empire games were held in 1930 at Hamilton, Ont., and in 1934 at London.

Baseball Trades May Be Made At Schedule Meeting

Yankees Seek Frank Higgins And Odell Hale For Their Infield

Chicago Cubs and Phillies May Swing Big Deal Today, Is Report

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—It will be last-chance day in the marts of trade during baseball's annual schedule meeting today; last chance for the Chicago Cubs to get out of third place by taking title to a first class pitcher; last chance for the Phillies to obtain some fresh money for Camilli or pitcher Curt Davis or both. In the same way, it will be the last chance to hear Col. Jake Rupert deliver himself of a speech and, personally, I can hardly wait.

The Colonel, it seems, is to make an announcement some time between three and four o'clock this afternoon and, since he thinks it's good enough for his personal attention, maybe it will hit the headlines after all.

Yanks Seek Hale

The Yankees have been successively reported as seeking Frank Higgins, of Philadelphia; "Bad News" Hale, of Cleveland, and Buddy Myers, the 1935 batting champion from Washington, but so far have only been able to muster their resolution to the point where they gave up Johnny Allen for Monty Pearson.

In line with their customary program, the announcement this afternoon probably will involve the momentous tidings that outfielder Windmill has blown himself all the way to Council Bluffs. And then, maybe not. Even the proudest strategists in the Yankee front office can't think that its infield will take care of itself and, therefore, everything is just darling.

Cards Want Davis

There were some free and unfettered reports in circulation yesterday but nothing came of them. The Cardinals, for instance, were to send pitcher Roy Parmelee; outfielder Ernie Osnati, the property of the Rochester club and $75,000 to Philadelphia for Curt Davis. I hastened to contact Mr. Rickey, of St. Louis, on this, because I wanted him to confirm the $75,000 as soon as possible, so that I could put it in the paper, anything for a laugh, you know.

Instead, he fooled me. He would not even confirm any part of the idea, saying that he hadn't talked trade with any one. However, sometimes those statements can run up the middle of the boulevard De Bologne hand in hand with Sweetney. Mr. Rickey is a Christian man and never has been known to deceive the press, except on weekdays.

Giants Want Camilli

The word also got around that Col. Wil-yum Terry had offered $25,000 for Camilli and was likewise dickering with the Dodgers for Sam Leslie, the man he had told never to darken his door again. This is all very confusing, inasmuch as Col. Terry hit better than 340 in playing the position with Eclat and Alacrity last year and need only to go to the trouble of ordering himself out there again. Nevertheless, the dear, dead story of Jim Collins coming here from St. Louis was duly and dutifully exhumed before the close of the day.

Dodgers Want Bush

The Cubs, meantime, were said to have offered Chuck Klein and either Charley Root or Tex Carleton, with money, for Davis, who is understood to be held at an approximate price of $125,000. If this one ever got to the talking stage, I surmise that the trouble came with the money.

It was likewise said that Brooklyn was after Guy Bush and was willing to part with an outfielder, which automatically suspended negotiations. As I understand it there is nothing worse than a Brooklyn outfielder, unless it's a Brooklyn infielder.

Germany Lacks Olympic Talent

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Feb. 3.—"It is not so much Olympic victories, but sporting achievements worthy of the Olympic Games that Germany should strive for," declared Herr von Tschammer und Osten, Fuehrer of the German sporting associations, at a general meeting preparatory of the Olympic Winter Games.

Herr von Tschammer und Osten's statement is generally taken as an admission that despite the Reich wide campaign to discover new talents for all categories of sports, the harvest has so far been meager.

This interpretation has been supported by another speech held on the same occasion. Herr Raab, one of the Olympic trainers openly confessed that "new talents have not been discovered and Germany will have to fall back upon known first class athletes for winning laurels at the games."

Altogether, German sporting circles have come to the conclusion that the bulk of victories and gold medals in the track and field events can not be taken away from the Americans. They do not express this opinion for publication, but there is no doubt that they share it privately.

Rohrer-Davis High In Shoot

Karl Rohrer and Rod Davis divided high honors in the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpareil club at the west side rifle range it was announced today. Rohrer and Davis shot fine 193 scores out of a possible 200.

Pugh was second man with 192 and Harmer followed with 190. The Nonpareil club will stage another shoot tonight at the range at 7:30 o'clock. All members are invited to attend.

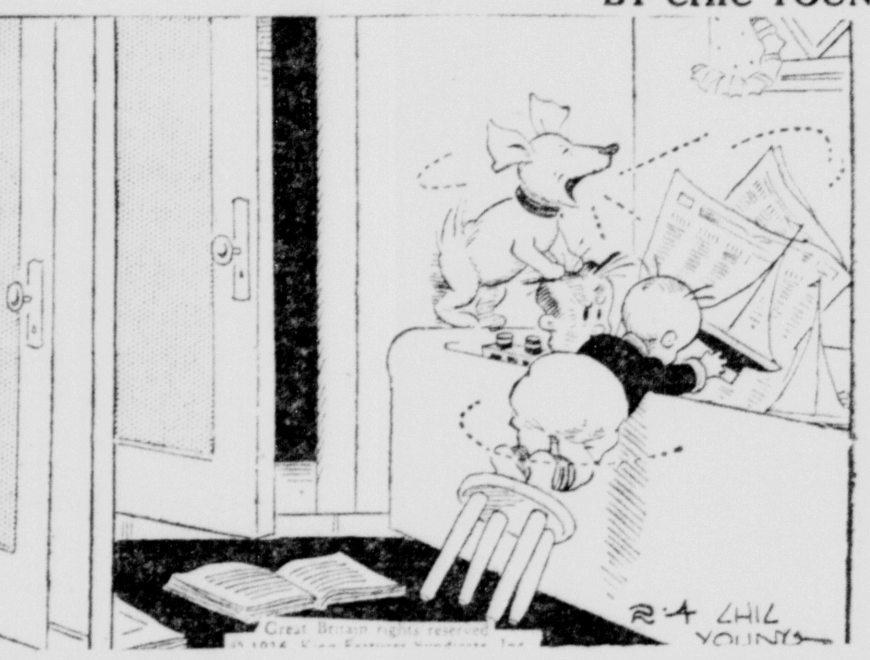

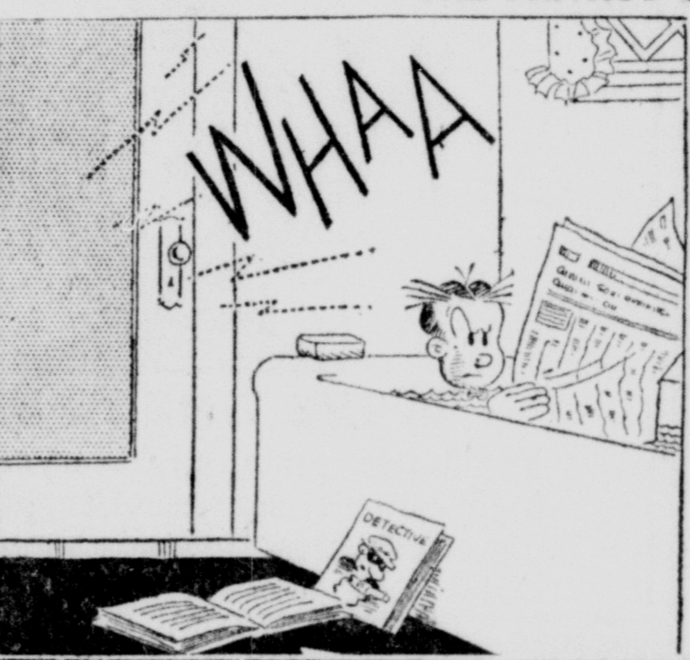

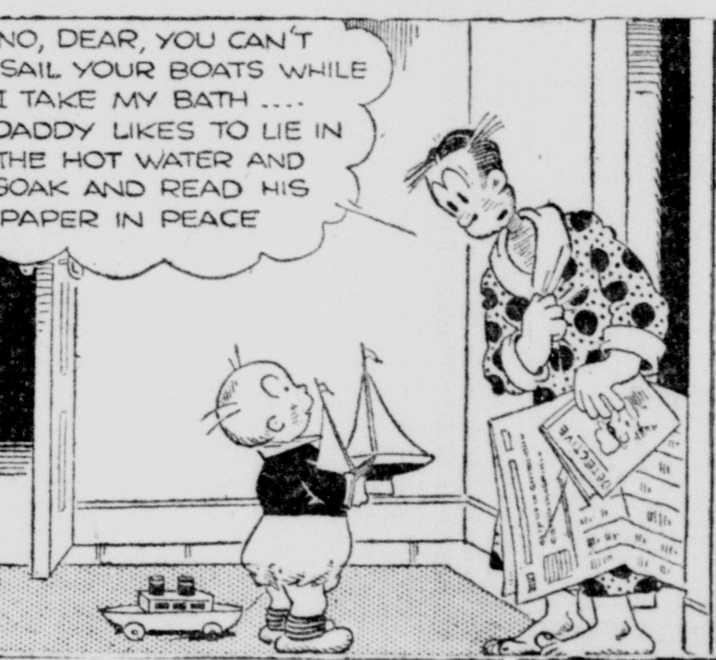

The following results of the last shoot were announced—Rohrer 193, Davis 193, Pugh 192, Harmer 190, Grodecur 184, Curtis 183, Barber 180, Walsh 154.

Only 6 percent of victims of fractured skulls are entirely incapacitated, 31 percent are able to live almost normal life and 63 percent completely recover.

The Boy Scout merit badge show in New Castle will be held either on March 20 and 21 or on March 27 and 28 and the annual first aid meet will be held either on April 17 or April 24, members of the New Castle Scouters' Association decided at their meeting last night in the Sinawikhut of Kiwanis Troop V-37 on Albert street.

Forge Forward Steel

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The stock market continued advancing today despite pressure on a few of the leaders, notably General Motors and Westinghouse.

Steels set the pace and were followed closely by rubbers and merchandising issues, with rails coming to the fore toward the end of the first hour. Many new 1935-36 highs were established, prominent among which was U. S. Steel.

General Motors dropped over a point. Westinghouse slipped over a point on profit-taking. Firestone hit a new high. Goodrich was close behind.

R. H. Macy rose easily in the merchandising list. Allied stores were active. Bethlehem and other steel shares followed U. S. Steel higher. Oils were firm and metals irregular. Pressure on General Motors unsettled the auto list but losses were generally small.

AROUND CITY HALL

J. M. Rice, director of safety, made it obvious during councilmanic meeting that, inasmuch as an insurance company, recognizing the benefit of the city in sending equipment and men to rural points to fight fires, had sent a donation to the city, he wanted the money set in a fund from which money can be drawn to pay for repairs to trucks, should accidents occur, enroute to fires out of town. He was informed that no separate set-up could be made but he then suggested that the donations received be "ear marked"—in other words kept in mind if money is needed for repairs. The question of sending city trucks and men out of the city is wholly up to the safety director. He feels kindly toward this but also understands that it is not compulsory. Inasmuch as townships which organize volunteer fire departments can obtain from the state funds from the foreign fire insurance business done, council believes they should so organize. If they do not do their share they can scarcely expect the city to risk trucks and men outside city limits.

In passing an ordinance which provides for the city treasurer to name a national bank or a trust company as deputy tax collector, Mayor Charles E. McGrath said that "council has taken this move to protect the job of City Treasurer, C. C. McKibben." Had this measure not been enacted into law by Wednesday Mr. McKibben, under existing law, according to City Solicitor Robert White, would not have been qualified for the job. The city council bears no ill will toward McKibben and the alleged high premium asked for a bond in no way is due to any lack of integrity on the part of McKibben. All of the insurance agencies, it is reported, have a standard rate for such bonds. However, council has taken the position the premium, $2,046, is too high on a $30,000 bond.

Mrs. Jennie Sankey, chief clerk to the assessor, A. C. Shoaf, has submitted to council, a report showing the valuation of taxable property for the year 1936. The taxable real estate amounts to $48,244,390; valuation for personal taxes of $2,628,830 and property non-assessable at $8,428,580.

Reducing Crime Among Young Folks

Plan Being Used In Philadelphia Gives Promise Of Success

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—Crime is being reduced among youths between the ages of 16 and 21 years of age by a system of education in the house of correction here, according to a report of former director of welfare Clinton Rodgers Woodruff.

"Through the assistance of the board of education, excellent teachers have been provided, under whose guidance a program of classroom shop, recreation and athletic training now exists," declared Woodruff. "The courts also are sending these youthful offenders to the institution with indefinite sentences, so that the lads have every incentive to enter into the earnest purpose of this work, since they themselves can earn their release by meriting it as rapidly as possible and so return to the community as useful citizens."
